Steuben County, New York is currently recruiting candidates for the Exempt position of

UNDERSHERIFF

The Undersheriff position involves responsibility, in concert with the Sheriff, for directing, coordinating and supervising the civil, criminal, correction and administrative operations of the Sheriff's Department. The work is carried out in accordance with well-established, professionally-accepted, modern law enforcement techniques and procedures, as well as the specific office management procedures as established by the Sheriff with assistance from the Undersheriff, and involves oversight of the various functions of the department and the provision and application of professional law enforcement decisions to situations as they arise.

- Work is performed under the general supervision of the Sheriff, with wide leeway allowed the incumbent for the exercise of independent judgment in planning the details of work,
- Resolving problems in a wide variety of areas, and acting generally for and in place of the Sheriff whether or not the Sheriff is immediately available for decision-making and/or consultation.
- Direct supervision is exercised over the activities of all subordinate law enforcement, corrections, and clerical personnel in the department.
